

Please do not allow the banks to call people on the do not call list. The banks were a large percentage of the problem initially, and I feel that if they are allowed to call again, that we would end up back at square one. If they are allowed to call present and former customers, will that not also allow phone or cable or any other company to have the same rights? Please don't allow this!!!